TRANSITION FROM PRE-SCHOOL TO NEXT SCHOOL

The Pre – School liaises with the local Infant schools; visiting the schools and inviting the reception teachers to the Pre – School so that they can chat to the children in their familiar environment.

With parents consent, any information that will help each child settle in at their new school will be passed onto the reception teachers.

In the case of a child with SEN, a more detailed review of the child’s present attainment will be passed to the school. With the parents’ permission, IEPs will be passed onto the school so that the schools can see what strategies have been used and the length of time taken for development and progress. Where a need requires more information a meeting will be arranged with the schools SENCO and the Pre – School will assist in any preparatory activities which is felt will benefit the child.
